RECREATION COMMISS'N

Members Meet At City Hall --- May Give Easter Party

The regular monthly meeting of the Daly City Recreation Commission was held at the city hall with six of its members and Recreation Director Elman Rosz in attendance.

A report of the recent Christmas Party held at the Daly City Theatre and Crest Theatre to capacity crowds of children in the community indicated it was a well conducted and very successful party.

Mr. Rosz reported that with completion of touch tackle football between the elementary and parochial schools, a basketball tournament is now in progress between Crocker, Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson and Our Lady of Perpetual Help schools. In the spring there will be a track meet with children from all sections of the city participating. A baseball league is also scheduled.

Castle Hall located in the south end of Daly City has again been rented by the city for recreation purposes, and although it has not as yet been thoroughly renovated, basketball standards have been reported already at play every evening.

For the followers of Sunday baseball several very fast young teams are getting under way for the coming season, which, of course, means a continuation of

TOO COLD! SAY BOYS WHO MADE BID FOR FREEDOM

Cold, hungry and tired of being hunted, two 16-year-old Daly City boys voluntarily returned to the juvenile hall in Redwood City last week after a two-day bid for freedom.

One boy, a probation violator, was awaiting transfer to the California Junior Republic at San Luis Obispo. The other was being held for car theft and under commitment to the Kern county forestry camp.

S.F. Muni Fare Now Ten Cents

"Dat ole debbil HCL" took another grip on San Franciscans when the Municipal Railway upped its fares from three tokens for a quarter to a straight ten cents per ride.

The Public Utilities Commission ordered the increase in accordance with the State Supreme Court's decision upholding the higher fares, which had been opposed by Mayor Robinson and the Board of Supervisors.

A new two-rides-for-a-quarter souvenir cable car ticket will be printed and sold. When punched out the holder retains it as a memento of his visit to the City.

some very high class games at Marchbank park.

With the realization that future sites for added recreation area were fast disappearing throughout the city, Rose, five members of the commission, with two council members, toured the city during December to review present recreation setups and several other possible sites.

The result of this extensive search brought about unanimous approval by the recreation members at Tuesday night's meeting that a communication be sent the city council for purchase or option on the proposed sites for future development of the recreation program.

A committee of members was appointed to make a study of a model recreation ordinance to be discussed at future meetings by the entire membership, and eventually submitted to the council for adoption.

A preliminary discussion was held for holding an Easter party, which will be further discussed at a future meeting. The meeting of the recreation commission will be held in February, date to be announced later.

Dr. J. C. McGovern Retires From Practice

Dr. J. C. McGovern is retiring this week after 42 years of practicing dentistry in this community. Before coming to Daly City Dr. McGovern had an office in San Francisco from 1902 to 1906.

Airlift to Chicago

Denizens of the deep, flown to Chicago for use at opening of a new restaurant in the Hotel Sherman, are welcomed at the city airport. Examining the airborne sea food are Pat Hoy, assistant to the president of the Sherman, a "mermaid" from the restaurant and airline stewardess Betty Shiner.

Weather Amazes, From Maine... to California

From the sun-baked shores of Maine to the snow-swept coast of Southern California, a capricious Ol' Man Winter had Americans scratching their heads, but trying to make the best of it. In Augusta, Maine, Mary Faulkner, left above, hitched her pure-bred Chinook sled-dog to a golfing cart and—basking in the warm sunshine—shot a few rounds of golf. At the same time, Los Angeles residents, like the man above, right, turned up their overcoats and collars and weathered one of the worst cold and snowstorms in years.

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT, FEB. 7, AT CITY HALL

The newly reorganized Daly City Merchants Association will meet in the City Hall Monday night, February 7, for a discussion of several vital issues which should prove of interest to all members. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. with President Tom Stanghellini presiding.

On the agenda for discussion will be further details on the proposed increase in business and professional licenses within the city. Although this matter has had some discussion already it is not entirely ironed out, so to say, to the satisfaction of the membership.

Another subject to be brought up will be "Should Daly City have its own health officer and not depend on the county for this service, or should we let things drift along as they are?" At present the northern end of the county seems to be by-passed when it comes to county services, although the tax collector hasn't forgotten to call when taxes are due.

Item number three for discussion will concern the possibility of getting the bus terminal extended to San Pedro Road. At present the buses terminate at the Bank of America, Mission street and San Jose avenue, and do not serve the district to the extent that some members of the association feel the buses should.

Lower Curbs At Top Of Hill Aid Walkers

Lowering of both curbs at the Hillcrest drive, Mission street intersection was under way this week in a move to make the crossing easier for pedestrians.

The curbs, higher than the conventional four inches found elsewhere in the city, were deemed to cause inconvenience to older people and women wheeling baby carriages.

City employees removed the old sidewalk and curbing and the new work was being installed by the K. C. Martin company.

Bob Silvestri To Try Again For Golf Championship

Ready to take another stab at the 1949 San Francisco golf championship this year, is Bob Silvestri, the northern California amateur champion, Bob, who last year swore that he was through, was the first man to sign an entry blank when the doors at J. E. French company opened Tuesday morning. Silvestri has tried unsuccessfully for three consecutive years—losing to Ed Castagnetto in 1946, Jim Molinari in 1947, and Dick Bailey in 1948.

But Silvestri is confident this year as he told sponsor Jimmy French Jr., "This year I'm going all the way."

Some 2,000 entries are expected, so golfers are urged to sign up early as starting lines on the Harding, Sharp and Lincoln park courses will soon be blocked off by early signers.

Probation was denied him after Superior Judge Scott found from a probation officer's report that Shirado had been arrested numerous times previously.

Additional Tax On Horse Racing Is Asked By Dolwig

An additional tax on horse race betting to develop local recreation facilities was asked last week by Assemblyman Richard Dolwig of South San Francisco.

The measure would levy a 3 percent tax on all money over $20,000, 000 handled in pari-mutuel betting, and would make the revenue available to cities, counties and school and recreation districts on a matching basis.

The tax would provide approximately $10,000,000, according to Dolwig. He said the need for greater recreation facilities had become "urgent and pressing" because of the great increase in population in California during the past several years.

Research Finds New Polio Clue

Elimination of one of the obstacles to a preventive polio vaccine and rapid diagnosis of the disease was revealed today by T. J. Hallinan, San Mateo county chairman of the 1949 March of Dimes campaign, in a report of research sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mr. Hallinan said that reports received by him indicated that greater purification of the deadly polio virus was now possible through new methods developed at the University of Minnesota with funds from the March of Dimes. Recently scientists at the University, he declared, had recovered relatively pure virus from polio-infected material by alcohol extraction under near freezing temperatures.

"Scientists have listed several barriers to be overcome before either a preventive vaccine or rapid test for polio is practical," Hallinan declared. "One of the 'musts' is a purified virus needed as a basis for vaccines or tests. With the new method recently reported it may now be possible to fill this requirement for our goal."

"Some of the other requirements deemed necessary by scientists for a vaccine or diagnostic test," he declared, "such as identification of virus strains and a rapid method for cultivating the virus are being pursued in the nation's leading research laboratories. One by one these obstacles are being overcome in the scientific laboratories."

On Saturday of last week little Richard Wetherbee, three years old, was found lost on Mission street by John Fox of 1586 Fell street, who took Richard to the police department at 10 a.m. In the meantime Mrs. Wetherbee reported to police that her son was lost and at 11 a.m. that morning Richard was home safe.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

CROCKER

Autograph seekers were many among the Crocker student body. Class pictures which had previously been taken were delivered to the school. Students in their intermissions were engaged in getting the autographs of their classmates and teachers. The graduates felt very elated and proud to have their superintendent, James L. Snell, photographed with them, and personally autograph their pictures. These memories of "school days" will be taken out in the years to come and result in many happy moments. The student body is further drawn closer together, because each class has its picture on display in the hall of the school.

Crocker student body has temporarily, for the spring term '49, bid farewell to some of its fifth and sixth grade citizens who will become a part of the Pershing student body. These students transferring to Pershing are those residing in a provisional boundary in the vicinity of the Crocker-Pershing area. The transfers were necessitated to provide regular session to as many students as possible in the two schools. We know our Crocker students will uphold the "CCC Club" (Crocker Courtesy Club) to which they have been proud to belong!

Congratulations go to Leonard Mullen, a Crocker graduate whose classmates are very proud that one of their own roommates had his original cover design selected by Superintendent Snell for the graduation program this past term. As part of a class activity conducted by their teacher many members of the class submitted original cover designs to the superintendent's office. The program this year is a complete booklet — with not only the pages of the printed program for the evening, and the names of the graduates, but also the names of the student body officers. Two last pages made a "special hit" with the graduates. "Just think," they gasped, "a place for autographs and memories! Isn't that swell?"

Diplomas, and mortarboards, and prophecies, and wishes, echoed through the Crocker library, as the 25 graduates enjoyed a sumptuous luncheon given them by their faithful Crocker P.T.A. The traditional cake cutting ceremony was not to be forgotten, as President Jean Eliassen, her officers and the principal made a wish for the graduates as the beautifully decorated sheet cake presented to the class by the P.T.A. was cut. Attending the luncheon from Crocker were Jack Allain, Lorraine Bergstrom, Phyllis M. Blackburn, James Bricker, Ann Choroski, Florence Christianson, Carol Clarke, David Coito, Louis Cortopassi, Dorothy Cuthshaw, Stanley Davis, Teresa Delino, Ronald Dickson, James Dowell, Jean Eliassen, Patsy Kirby, Ronald Laureano, Maryann Lund, Florence Matteoda, Erma Miller, Robert Montgomery, Leonard Mullen, Marie Pool, Gertrude Runge, Norma Van Der Werff.

The L6 class has completed all required work for their social science unit "Our American Neighbors" and is doing general review and refresher work in all subjects, in preparation for their new semester.

The music period has been greatly enjoyed by the L8, as they have sung the many American songs with which our nation has grown. This week will culminate their study of "Citizenship and Democracy." The students of this group are looking forward with anticipation to be termed "prospective graduates of June '49."

Hold Local Man On Rape Charge

Accused of allegedly raping a 15-year old San Francisco girl in a San Francisco home last week was Henry Montano, 22, 251 Peoria street. He and William Rayo, 21, of 172A Highland avenue, San Francisco are being held by San Francisco police, while a third is being sought.

Montano was identified as one of the three youths who allegedly attacked the girl during a party in the Excelsior district.

Music Conservatory Opens Studio Here

The American Music Conservatory will open a studio next week at Little Italy hall, 6229a Mission street, following enrollment of 35 students. John A. Petrocelli and Clement John Kroll, enrollers, will visit homes throughout Daly City offering aptitude tests. If a child shows talent and desires to take lessons, the conservatory will furnish the instrument for instruction.

Teacher for the classes will be Henry Kapukul, of San Francisco, who has entertained all over the United States. Lessons will be given from 4 to 6 p.m. weekly.

Another American Music Conservatory is located at 5464 Foot-hill boulevard, Oakland.

WOODROW WILSON

Upon reviewing their semester's work, "Our American Neighbors," students of the high fifth and low sixth grades will be given a written examination.

A perfect attendance record for the fall semester was made by the following high sixth and low seventh grade students: Marvin Abraham, Robert Armstrong, Carol Bertelli, Mary Jane Dixon, Mary Jones, Jane Kennedy, and Shirley Melick.

The high seventh grade pupils were busy last week drawing physical and political maps of the Soviet Union.

Outstanding arithmetic students in the low eighth this week are Gerald Eling, Joseph Lewkowicz, Shirley Scott, and Arlene Wilder.

Reports Rape In S. F. Stone Quarry

Suffering from a possible fracture of the right leg and exposure, is a local housewife who last week was raped and severely beaten in a deserted San Francisco stone quarry. She was taken to the Mission Emergency hospital. Police said she apparently had lain in the quarry most of the night.

The woman told officers that she had met a man the evening before between 6 and 6:30 on Market street. She said he took her to a park, criminally assaulted her, and slashed her. Both legs had been slashed by a knife.

Lutheran Church Wedding Vows

Wedding vows were exchanged last Saturday by Miss Alice Frances Johnson and Fitz-Gerald Ames Jr. before the altar of the Bethel Lutheran church. The three o'clock ceremony was performed by Reverend H. P. Schroeder.

Alice, escorted down the aisle by her father Alex Johnson, wore the traditional white satin. Her gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, hooped skirt, and three-quarter-length sleeves, had an overskirt of white net trimmed with tiny satin bows. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, white camellias and bouvardia, and wore a crown of beaded pearls to hold her finger-tip veil in place.

Matron of honor duties were performed by the bride's sister, Mrs. Aline Lindquist, who was gowned in white satin with a blue net overskirt. Her cascade bouquet was composed of pink camellias and pink carnations. She wore a crown of baby roses.

Harold Sheridan stood with the groom as best man. Ushers were David Johnson and Russell Ames.

For the wedding Mrs. Johnson donned a grey dress and wore black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. Fitz-Gerald Ames Sr., chose an aqua suit, a hat of pink chiffon trimmed with bird of paradise feathers, and complimentary accessories.

A reception of 100 guests followed the ceremony at 159 Monticello street. Buffet refreshments were served. The couple cut a two-tiered wedding cake.

Honeymooning at Ice Lake Chalet, Soda Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Ames will return to make their home at 118 Wyandotte street, Daly City.

Alice was graduated from Jefferson Union High school in January of '48 and attended San Mateo Junior college for six months. Fitz-Gerald, who served three years in the U. S. Naval Air Corps, is now attending the University of San Francisco where he is majoring in law. He is a graduate of Lincoln High school.

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.
Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste — a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs — for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You
Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads — of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest-paid railroad employees — real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You
But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against YOUR interests — as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch — and why they are telling you about them.

With sureties satisfactory to said Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to 50% of the amount of said proposal, under the provisions of the Labor and Materialmen's Act of 1919.

YOUNG FOLKS

Dolls for Grown-Ups

BY DAN MURDOCH

THE doll is the oldest of children's toys. But once dolls served a purpose for grown-ups too.

Years ago there were no magazines, newspapers, or shop windows. But men and women were interested in new fashions just as they are today. "Fashion dolls" were dressed to show new styles and these caused as much excitement as any fashion photos today.

Fashion dolls were in exact miniature everything a real person did: clothes, hair-dos, make-up, jewelry, gloves, fans, purses, canes, lace, and embroidery, all in exactly the right cloth, cut and color! Sometimes the fashion-doll sat in a miniature carriage drawn by little doll-horses. One doll we have from olden days is a mother-doll holding a little girl-doll, who in turn holds an even smaller toy-doll—all three completely costumed!

ONCE each year, in Paris, dress-makers and hairdressers would hold an exhibition of new fashion dolls. Then they would send the dolls to other countries. Fashion dolls were so important in those days, that in wartime a French ship would never be attacked if it carried fashion-dolls!

These dolls were expensive, so only the well-to-do could afford to buy them. As each season brought new dolls, the children of the family would get the old ones for toys.

No dolls of olden days had jointed legs and arms, so they couldn't "walk" or "sit." They couldn't shut their eyes, and not one of them could say, "Ma-ma." These improvements are only about 100 years old.

Many fashion-dolls have interesting stories. An old picture shows an American colonist in 1607 giving a doll to an Indian girl. The leader of the expedition was Captain John Smith, so many people think the girl was Pocahontas herself. The oldest American doll that we still have came from France in 1699. It belonged to William Penn's children, and

Some grown-ups are still interested in dolls, but not for fashions. They collect dolls for their stories, or their beauty and value. Fellowship House, in Philadelphia, has a fine collection of child-dolls of all races and colors. There's a Bible doll collection, too, with a specialty in Nativity dolls.

Just recently a Philadelphia woman died and left a collection of more than 2,000 dolls. While the dolls in the estate were appraised at more than $5,000, her friends say that she would not have parted with them for $100,000, since they included some of the rarest examples of early-day doll making in the world.

Teen Time

By Bess Ritter

FOR an original accessory, you can make yourself a set of cuff links from ordinary nuts and bolts for your mannish blouse.

Decorate them by painting with silver or gold paint, a bit of bright nail polish, or if you like them au naturel, shine them up with a blitz cloth and wear as is.

A nice way to keep your dresser free from face powder spills is to use a shaker you've made yourself from an old, favorite celluloid doll. Cut a small piece out from the bottom of the feet with a pocket knife, fill the doll with powder, and cover the opening with a bit of Scotch tape. Pierce holes in the head, salt-shaker style, so that you can sprinkle exactly enough on your powder puff. A cute little hat you can make will cover up the perforations and keep dust from getting into the cosmetic.

If your last year's bathing suit is ready for the scrap heap, salvage some of it by cutting a strip from the midriff about three inches wide and utilizing it for the band of that dirndl skirt you've been planning.

For a couple of new tricks with ribbon, remember that the black narrow-velvet kind looks lovely on your wrist and dog-collar style around your neck, for evening wear. For extra glamor, separate the two blooms in your corsage and pin one to each ribbon. If you've got three flowers, put the extra one in your hair.

Now about a "memory" bedroom set, if you're going away. Have your friends autograph your plain bedspread and window drapes. Then, in your spare time, go over the outlines with back-stitch, in many bright colors. You'll treasure this set always. In memory of happy, carefree teen days.

BOYS' CLUB WHIPS MERCHANTS HEFFRON HITS LONGEST HOMER IN HISTORY OF MARCHBANK PARK

The Colma Boys' Club walloped the Junipero Serra Merchants 9 to 6 in a hard-fought baseball game Sunday afternoon at Marchbank Park. The win came as a surprise to many who thought the teenagers lacked the power for a win over the older and more experienced Merchants.

Howard Heffron of the boys' club got the longest home run in the history of Marchbank Park when he swatted the ball right into the clubhouse with all bags loaded in the fourth inning.

Junipero Serra had been leading until then, 4 to 0, but, encouraged by Heffron's achievement, the boys went on to win their decisive victory.

Next Sunday the boys' club comes up against the Ocean View Whitecaps, winners of the San Francisco "A" championship in the winter league. The game will be played at noon at Marchbank Park.

The Serras will play Gray's Tavern, another San Francisco "A" team, at 2 p.m., also at Marchbank Park.

Another meeting between the merchants and the boys' club may be scheduled in a month or two, Joe Sarto, sponsor of the boys, said this week.

JEFFERSON HIGH GIRLS' SPORTS

By Claire Allen

Mrs. Diederichsen, former girls' gym teacher, is being replaced by a graduate of the University of California, Miss Virginia Parant. She now lives in Daly City, although her home town is Oakland. At Cal she was president of the Women's Athletic Association and a member of the Block "C." She likes Jeff and is happy to be teaching here. Miss Parant will teach swimming with Miss Young and will have a study period.

The two basketball managers, Bobbie Carroll and Shirley Bane, begin work this Friday. The girls chosen for this job receive 25 points which contribute toward their Block "J" and other awards. To receive the Block "J" the student must earn 150 points.

First and second periods are now being taught Home Nursing. The instructor is a registered nurse, Mrs. Andrews, who has taught the course at Burlingame, San Mateo, and South City. The course will last Monday through Friday for six weeks.

Shuffleboard Game At Puccini's Place

Puccini's Place, popular Colma restaurant and tavern, has just installed a shuffleboard game for the enjoyment of its patrons.

Managed by Joe Borelli, the restaurant has catered to those who enjoy good food by serving some of the most delicious meals in town.

"Many people will find that shuffleboard is a game they really enjoy playing. It certainly has been popular here in the past few days we've had it going," Borelli said.

Puccini's Place is located at 17 San Pedro Road.

Spudnut Shop Stages Reopening

The Mid City Spudnut Shop has been undergoing alterations this past week and will reopen this afternoon (Thursday) at 2 p.m., according to Richard Selmi, owner, who recently bought out his partner, Joe Dalby.

Floral-pattern wall paper on the rear wall of the shop and powder-blue tile board all around will be noted by the decorative scheme.

The shop will be serving those well-known delicious Spudnuts fresh every day at 2 p.m., coffee and ice cream. Later on Selmi hopes to serve soup, hamburgers, milk shakes, sundaes, steaks, and other types of food to his patrons.

New hours for the Spudnut Shop, which is located at 6714 Mission street, are from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. on week days and from 2 p.m. to 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights.

Maybe it wasn't basketball, but it was fun. That was the opinion of most of the 800 people who attended the Redheads - Men's Faculty game in the Jefferson high school gym last Friday night.

The girls made it a comedy show from start to finish. They even started a baseball game on the gym floor, using baseball caps and gloves - and the basketball for a ball. The men just stood around "helpless."

The Redheads were good on long shots and made a lot of baskets from far out on the floor, managing to keep just ahead of the faculty on points.

The girls' team played in a style somewhat reminiscent of the Harlem Globe-Trotters or the New York Clowns, but without the polish of the latter two teams.

During the course of the game one of the Redheads put up Coach Elman Rose's hair with bobby pins. Basketball rules were almost ignored as the girls tried every trick in the books, mostly for laughs. One of the Redheads made a basket while sitting on the shoulders of her teammate.

Favorite trick of the women was to rough up their opponents' hair. Incidentally, the Redheads won the game, 36 to 30.

The school athletic fund realized $120 from the game after taxes and after splitting with the Redheads.

The Redheads are managed by Connie Mack Olson, originator of the well-known "Olson's Terrible Swedes." They have been barnstorming the country, playing men's teams only.

Joe McGrath, Glenn South, Clarence Lair, Mike Orlich, Johnny Mongon, Elman Rose, Howard Miguel and Vic Binsacca played for the faculty team.

According to reports, the faculty members recuperated from the game in time to teach school Monday morning.

Another strictly-for-laughs game, to be played on donkeys, is scheduled for February 21. The opposing teams will be from the Lions Club and from the members of the faculty who didn't play against the Redheads. The game will be played in the school auditorium.

Since it is scheduled the night before a holiday (Washington's Birthday) students will be able to attend and not worry about homework for the next day. Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Joe Sarto, Boys' Club Sponsor, Enters Hospital

Joe Sarto, sponsor of the Colma Boys' Club, entered St. Joseph's hospital for a checkup Monday. He had not been feeling well for some time, his wife said.

SPRING TERM STARTS MONDAY AT S. M. JAYSEE

With its fall semester ending this week, San Mateo Junior College will start the spring term Monday, February 7, with an assembly of all old and new students at 8:30 a.m. in the San Mateo Theatre. Following the assembly, the college faculty will help advise students in making out their programs. Registration work will continue Tuesday, with actual class work starting Wednesday.

One hundred and twenty-five high sophomores are completing the graduation requirements this term. They represent the whole county and will be given their diplomas in June at the regular commencement program.

With the start of the new term, a new group of student officers will take charge of student activities. Jack Grady will have completed his tenure as president, and Jim Brick will take his place.

Meanwhile a quick start will be made on spring sports: baseball, track, tennis, golf, while basketball and badminton will continue from the fall semester. Evidence is that the Mateans will have a powerhouse baseball nine, similar to the one that won the league title last season.

The basketball team walloped two league foes over the week end, Monterey 78 to 37, and Hartnell of Salinas 51 to 44. This Friday evening the Mateans go to San Francisco to play the league-leading City College, and in so doing go up against their strongest opponent of the season.

Monday evening, February 14, President Robert Burns of the College of the Pacific will speak in the junior college auditorium at the meeting of Community Hall. He will talk on and show color slides of a college tour of Western Europe.

The public is invited, without charge, to the program which starts at 7:30 o'clock. Monday evening, February 7, the Peninsula UNESCO Forum will meet in the college auditorium with two speakers, discussing "What Next for China?" The public is also invited to this public meeting.

Graduation Plays Havoc In Local School Teams

The mid-term graduation of the elementary schools in Daly City has played havoc with their basketball teams. Crocker's "A" basketball team, which is leading the league so far with two wins and no losses, lost five men through graduation. They are Stanley Davis, James Bricker, Jim Dowell, Ronald Dickson, Ronald Laureano, James Bricker was crowned "City Handball Champion" last term.

Tied for second place in the league are Jefferson elementary and Our Lady of Perpetual Help, each with one win and one loss. The boys from the Jefferson "A" team who were graduated are Mario Leveroni and John Socca.

Woodrow Wilson's "A" team, which is trailing the basketball league with no victories and two losses are now without the services of Jack Allain and Garry Johnson.

Jefferson elementary is out in front in the "B" division of the basketball tournament. The team has two wins and no defeats to its credit. Tied for second are Crocker and Perpetual Help each with one win and one defeat. Woodrow Wilson is again at the bottom with two defeats in as many starts.

In the "A" division last week, Stanley Davis, Martin Vervece and Jim Herman from Crocker played excellent basketball as did Ray Rosa from Perpetual Help. Bill Al-

Bay Area Smog Meet Scheduled

San Francisco Supervisor Edward T. Mancuso, president of the County Supervisors Association of California, has taken the initiative in the Bay Area's smog control plans and called a meeting of officials of all nine Bay Area counties to be held in Oakland February 16.

The meeting will attempt to determine the extent of air pollution in the Bay region and consider means of controlling it. The program was suggested by Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, who declared increasing industrialism of the Bay region called for preventive action. Prevention will be less costly than cure, the Mayor said, calling attention to Los Angeles' anti-smog campaign.

Before formal action can be taken in the Bay region, however, it will be necessary to amend the 1947 Air Pollution Act, which was aimed at the Los Angeles situation only.

River Transport Again Available

Arrival of the first river cargo to reach San Francisco in many years — 277 tons of sacked barley from Colusa — reinstated river transport service between the city and Superior California.

Sacramento River operations during the past decade have ended at the state capital because of shallowness of the river above that point and lack of shallow-draft vessels to navigate it.

Completion of the "Colusa," a new diesel-tow boat drawing only four feet of water, and the "Antioch," a converted river barge with a similar draft when fully loaded, in conjunction with the controlled flow of water down the Sacramento River from Shasta Dam, now make upper-river navigation possible.

Gen. Pershing P.T.A. 20th Anniversary Celebrated Tuesday

The 20th anniversary of the General Pershing P.T.A. was celebrated Tuesday evening in conjunction with a candlelight service for Founder's Day of the National Congress of Parent-Teachers.

Mrs. Drew Eason presented life memberships to Mrs. E. M. Nentzell and Mrs. C. E. Duckering and explained the significance of the life membership. It is mainly a contribution of the unit toward the National Congress of Parent-Teachers fund for student scholarships.

Mrs. George Freeland sang Mott's "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Ramon Gomez, at the close of the meeting. Miss Amelia Feary gave a short talk on the new health and nutrition plan for residents of San Mateo County over 50 years of age.

NEWLY ESTABLISHED REALETERIA ARCADE

Something new under the sun has at last been created in the listing and sale of real estate.

A Realeteria Arcade is being established at 2308 Market street under the national Realeteria plan of real estate selling, now established throughout California and other western states.

Under this new plan of real estate marketing, listings of property for sale are no longer kept in file boxes where the public cannot see them. Instead, all listings are displayed on individual cards, through a unique method of printed display type paste-up a patented process.

Listings are then hung on chrome-plated rotating display rack where persons looking for homes or investments of any kind in real estate may look them over without obligation in any way.

Essential information is given on each listing card—size and character of the property, character of location, proximity to schools, transportation and stores, price and down payment, according to Al Des Marais, Manager of the Realeteria.

New Traffic Laws, More Meters For SF

In its continuing struggle to untangle traffic congestion, San Francisco has extended Grant avenue as a one-way street north-bound from Broadway to the Embarcadero, established a number of new arterial "stops" and extended "no parking" and "no stopping" regulations to additional downtown streets.

New arterial stops have been ordered for Baker and Geary, Fifteenth and Guerrero, Geary and St. Joseph's avenue, Green and Steiner, and Fillmore and Marina boulevard.

Olney avenue between Third and San Bruno was added to the "no parking day or night" streets, and "no parking between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m." was ordered instituted on both sides of Army between Third and Evans, and both sides of Evans from Army to Third.

"No stopping between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m." has been decreed for the south side of Howard between Second and Hawthorne, the north side of Bush between Battery and Grant, and between Grant and Jones.

Meter Zones Proposed

The police committee of the Board of Supervisors has recommended new parking meter zones for 26 streets north and south of Market, including portions of Mission, Howard, Folsom, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets south of Market.

North of Market zones recommended included Davis, Front, Battery, Sansome, Montgomery, Columbus avenue, Grant avenue, Mason, Taylor, California, Pine, Bush, O'Farrell, Ellis, Eddy, Turk, Mason, Golden Gate avenue and McAllister.

Temporary Air Mail Service On Route 78

Acting Postmaster John F. Fixa announced yesterday that effective in the near future, temporary air-mail service will be inaugurated at Pasco-Kennewick-Richland, Washington, as an intermediate point on route Air-Mail 78, between Pendleton, Oregon, and Walla Walla, Washington.

No official cachet for first-flight covers will be authorized for this temporary service. However, souvenir covers received by the postmasters at Pasco, Kennewick and Richland, Washington, will be dispatched to first flights, if practicable.

Infra Red Rays

During the past 10 years infra-red rays have been put to many uses. During World War II, they enabled snipers to see enemy soldiers in the dark. Today they dehydrate fruits and vegetables, dry fresh paint on automobile bodies in minutes instead of hours, germinate seeds, relieve the pains of sinus and arthritis, bake bread and detect phony Old Masters.

By Ray J. Hewitt

It will come as a most pleasant surprise that another of the old California Missions is to be restored. This latest restoration, and it entails a complete from-the-ground-up job, is Mission San Rafael Arcangel, which is to be rebuilt on the site of the original Mission.

San Rafael was the next to last Mission to be built under the Franciscan regime and was first set up as a hospital for the Indians who found the rigorous weather at Mission Dolores too much for them. Two epidemics of measles were especially hard on the Indians and decimated their ranks to such an alarming degree that Governor Sola suggested moving them across the Golden Gate to the milder climate of Marin county.

After experiments proved the wisdom of this scheme, a missionary ranch was established. However, some neophytes died without the benefit of the Last Sacrament and when Fr. Luis Gil y Taboada of Mission La Purisima, who was learned in medical practices, offered to reside at Dolores and from there attend the sick across the Bay, his offer was accepted and on December 14, 1817, the work of building the chapel and baptistry was started.

Mission San Rafael had a most stormy history as it was the center of many plots during the passing of the Russian settlement, the last days of the Mexican regime, and the short-lived Bear Flag Republic. In fact, Fremont took possession of the Mission in 1846 and held it for a short period of time before returning to Sonoma to take active command of the conquest of California.

The beautiful city of San Rafael, just a few minutes drive north of San Francisco, over the Golden Gate Bridge, has grown up around the site of the old Mission. A succession of catastrophes destroyed the Mission and a fine new church was built here in 1917. Now, however, with money made available by the Hearst Foundation for restoration of the California Missions, work is to be started and soon another of these historic landmarks will be found along El Camino Real.

Bird of Mexico
Caracara, also known as the Mexican buzzard or eagle, is the national emblem of Mexico. This bird is still extant and has been observed in Arizona, Texas, New Mexico and Florida.

USE HORN SPARINGLY

Use your horn sparingly, advises the National Automobile Club. To roll down the street blowing your horn at anything and everything that comes near you is just bad driving manners. There are times and places where you will have to use it, but in most cases the judicious use of steering wheel, accelerator, or brake pedal will serve you better.

Vets Preference Placards May Be Obtained In S. F.

As special service to local contractors, the Office of the Housing Expediter, through the local area rent office at 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, will distribute red, white and blue "Veterans Preference" placards free to all builders of new housing that is to be offered for sale or for rent, according to Henry A. Cross, area rent director.

These placards will provide builders of housing not being constructed for owner-occupancy with a convenient means of complying with the provisions of the Housing and Rent Act of 1948 that gives veterans of World War II or their families the right to have the first opportunity to buy or rent newly-built family units.

Specifically, the law provides that no person may sell a single family residence (unless built for owner-occupancy) completed after June 30, 1947, and prior to April 1, 1949, unless he first gives veterans preference in the purchase of the dwelling during the period of construction and for 30 days after completion.

Further, if the dwelling remains unsold and the seller lowers the original offering-price, he must re-offer the dwelling to veterans for an additional 7-day period before it can be offered to the public. This 7-day additional offering-period applies to every subsequent lowering of price. This 7-day preference applies not only to first sale at a lowered price but also to all re-sales at any price.

The same preference — during the period of construction and for 30 days thereafter, and an additional seven days if the original price is lowered — applies to the renting of housing accommodations designed for occupancy by other than transients. As in the case of dwellings built for sale, any rental accommodations completed after June 30, 1947, and prior to April 1, 1949, are subject to veterans preference.

To make certain that veterans are given reasonable opportunity to buy or rent such dwelling units, the owner must post a sign or placard in front of each housing structure, or on the construction site, during construction and during the period of offering to veterans, as well as advertise in newspapers.

The placards now available to builders who call at the area rent office provide space for all the information required by the veterans' preference law, as follows:

1. The rental or sales price of the dwelling.

2. The fact that the accommodations are offered for sale or rent exclusively to veterans or families for the prescribed period.

3. The name and address of the person authorized to sell or rent the housing accommodations.

Cross warned that the supply of placards on hand in his office is limited. Should the supply become exhausted, the builder will still be obligated to obtain and post a placard or sign as required by the regulation.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY - FEB. 4 & 5

Daly City's newest service station will open its doors for business this Friday. Joe Lewkowitz, the independent Hancock dealer who operates the station, is celebrating the opening by giving away free corsages for the ladies, cigarettes for the gents, and comic books and candies for the kiddies. Lewkowitz, present operator of the service station behind the Daly City Bank of America, will continue to operate both stations for a short time.

WOLF CREEK TAVERN

Wolf Creek Tavern, located 24 miles north of Grants Pass in Oregon, is reported by the National Automobile Club to be rich in history. General Grant made his headquarters here during the Oregon Indian Campaign. Jack London completed the "Valley of the Moon" here, and President Hayes stopped here on the first journey ever made to the West by a President. Built of hand-hewn materials, the tavern is still unchanged after more than half a century.

WHEN DRIVING AT NIGHT

Many motorists prefer to do their long distance driving, or part of it, at night, declares the National Automobile Club. The preference is based upon the fact that traffic is lighter and the glaring sunlight is absent. While these assumptions are correct, several other aspects of the subject are worthy of consideration. One is that it is easier to fall asleep, doze, or relax on a deserted road than on one where traffic presents a constant stimulus to wakefulness. Another fact to consider is that maximum driving speeds should be lower than in the daytime because of greatly reduced visibility.

H-LITES
From Jefferson Union High School

by Carol Donaldson

With graduation a thing of the past and the semester over, Jeff students are settling down to the start of a new term. To start the new semester two teachers have joined the faculty. Mr. Ernest Ribera arrived January 31 to take over in the field of social studies and U. S. History. The other new addition is Miss Parant, who will assist with the girls' P. E. classes.

The new high senior class is hard at work on the Senior Play, "Big Hearted Herbert," which is scheduled to be presented February 25 in the Jeff auditorium. In order to insure attendance at rehearsals, the director has decided that two unexcused absences will automatically drop a member from the cast.

Several of the clubs and classes have taken field trips recently. Two of these were Miss Tully's 4th-year English classes, who went to see "Hamlet," and first and second period radio classes, who went on an inspection tour of the Eitel McCoullough plant in San Bruno.

McCoullough manufactures sender tubes under the trademark, Eimac. The plant is working on military operations and is closely guarded. Each of the 32 boys' rec-

Smudge Pot

Best known frost protector is the smudge pot. This oil burning heater has been used extensively by West Coast citrus growers. Set out in an orchard, it is lighted on nights when frost threatens. It heats the surrounding air which, in turn, passes on the heat, by convection, to the trees.

Keeping Cut Flowers

Add a little bleach containing chlorine to the water in which cut flowers are placed to keep down odor from decaying stems and leaves.

ords were looked up and cleared before they were allowed to attend. They were taken by guides in groups of five through the different departments. The trip proved very interesting and informative.

The student body elections were held last week with the following results: President, Don Wolf; vice-president, LeRoy Gonzales; secretary, Laura Ross; treasurer, Dolores Furiosi; sergeant-at-arms, Jess Martinez; and judge, Robert Richards. Class elections have not been held as yet.

Tribute to Walton

Izaak Walton is one of the relatively few authors who have reached immortality through a single work. His book, "The Compleat Angler," revealed a man of quiet contemplation, full of deft humor, a lover of life and mankind, and above all, a crackerjack fisherman.

Q Fever

Cattle, particularly dairy cows, are the only definitely known source of human infection with Q fever, but the means by which cattle acquire and transfer the infectious agent is not yet understood.

To Save Curtains

Rough, jagged edges on curtain rods tear too many curtains. To avoid this, try the following plan: When curtains are laundered and ready to be put up, dip one end of the curtain rods in melted paraffin and allow to harden. Then slip the paraffin end of the rod through the curtain and it will prevent sharp edges from snagging the curtain.

"Injun Summer"

Indians believed that the masses of red in the autumn trees was from the blood of the Great Bear slain by celestial hunters.

HI-LITES AT C.C.S.F.

By Roy Hurlbert

As it is customary, introductions are in order now that this space has been allotted to your newly installed informant.

Frank Galo, weekly contributor to this column has shifted his journalistic pursuits to San Francisco State and graciously gave your truly the go-ahead in rambling with what's new at City College.

In brief, this writer is also following the typewriter trend and hopes to continue with a stint at either San Jose State or California. After that the intention will be to hook up with some publication in the sportswriting capacity. (Let's hope so!)

ELECTION RESULTS

Student League party candidates won in a landslide in the college's semester election held two weeks ago.

Accorded a convincing margin of the total ballot of 917 vote casters, President-elect Pete Isola stressed a policy of increased participation and mutual cooperation toward better campus government. Isola polled 413 affirmatives, 150 more than runner-up Jim Fernhoff, fraternity standard bearer.

Campusites take leave of learning for a between term vacation following today's conclusion of a week-long siege of final exams.

Local culture converts knock off the book work for the much welcomed breather until they must again submit to the drudgery of registration for the new semester. The latter process will start next Thursday, and continues on through Friday, February 11. First classes will be conducted beginning Wednesday, the 16th.

BASKETBALL

conference-leading Ram cagers go after wins Nos. 20 and 21 in their sensational unbroken victory skein tonight and tomorrow as they tip-off against San Mateo on the local hardwood, and Menlo as visitors, in that order.

Unchallenged in their perch atop the southern division with five league conquests, the City College five figures to roll over both opposing quintets if past performances rule. The Hillsmen previously turned back the Menlo squad twice, with a 57-32 runaway, and a more recent 42-36 triumph in a loop tilt. If things run to form, and the local casabans take San Mateo, as expected, they will have beaten every team in their division at least once.

Last week, the hilltoppers walloped Stockton, 61-51, and in a surprise waltzed over their only real threat in the title chase, Modesto, 63-44, who narrowly lost to the Rams in the annual state tournament playoff, 45-47, last month.

Reliable Dud Truelsen leads the bucket brigade with 243 points in 18 games for a 13.5 average per contest. Rebound artist Kev Dugan, center, has tallied 176 digits and forward Bob Methehy ranks third as point maker with an output of 164 markers.

Grant Tech is the current pace setter in the northern division with six straight without a setback, followed closely by Santa Rosa and Sacramento.

ODDS AND ENDS

Discontinuation of the regular summer session was attributed to the falling off of veteran enrollments according to a statement issued by College President A. J. Cloud. An estimate of the expected enrollment revealed that the demand for the additional instruction was not sufficient to warrant the procedure.

S.F. Board Aids Pest Campaign

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors has put its shoulder to the wheel to help combat the Oriental fruit fly menace to the State's agriculture.

In resolutions memorializing the State Legislature and Congress, the Board called for enactment of legislation and provision of funds which would enable the State and United States Departments of Agriculture to wage an effective campaign against Dacus Dorsalis, both in California and in the Hawaiian Islands.

At Sacramento it was announced Senator Fred Weybret of Salinas and Assemblyman George A. Clarke of Planada would fly to the Islands to make a first hand study of the situation there.

Veterans Weekly News Column

Veterans Administration urges that veterans check their National Service Life Insurance policies periodically to make sure the insurance is giving maximum protection to both the veteran and his dependents.

VA urges that veterans check the following features of their G-I insurance:

1. The beneficiary or beneficiaries. VA pays insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. If a veteran wants to change his beneficiary he should do so at once. This can be done without the knowledge or consent of the previous beneficiary.

2. The manner in which the proceeds of the policy will be paid. There are four options for settlement including lump sum payment, monthly installments ranging from 36 to 132 months, monthly installments for life with 120 installments guaranteed and monthly installments for life with the face amount of the policy guaranteed.

3. The amount and type of insurance carried. Veterans should make sure the amount and type of G-I insurance they are carrying is sufficient to meet their needs and obligations.

Information on all phases of insurance problems may be obtained by calling in person or writing the nearest Veterans Administration office.

Question: I am a World War I veteran and have been suffering from a stomach ailment for some time. May I go to a private hospital in my home town and have Veterans Administration pay the bill?

Answer: You may provided only if your stomach ailment is service-connected and you receive prior approval from VA to do so.

Question: My child was born five months after the death of my husband, a World War II veteran. Is the child considered a full beneficiary insofar as death pension or compensation are concerned?

Answer: The posthumous child of a veteran is entitled to allowance of death pension or compensation at the same rate as a child born during the lifetime of such veteran.

Question: May benefits be paid for a veteran's child not residing with the widow?

Answer: Yes. Payments may be made to the person who has custody of the child.

The next few years will see an increased demand for college graduates in the fields of medicine, psychology, kindergarten and elementary school teaching and certain phases of electricity, according to the Veterans Administration.

At the same time, competition will grow keener for positions in the fields of engineering, chemistry, pharmacy, law and personnel relations.

These conclusions were contained in a study prepared for the Veterans Administration by the Occupational Outlook Service, Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor.

The study is being used by VA advisement and guidance officers as an aid in counseling disabled veterans planning to take educational and training courses.

The Nation's demand for health service is outstripping the supply of newly graduated doctors and dentists, the report said. It estimated that "about two-thirds of this year's 5,543 medical graduates (from schools accredited by the American Medical Association) and all of the 1,515 dental graduates will be needed to replace the physicians and dentists lost to the field annually because of death or retirement."

As a result, only a small expansion of the country's medical staff will be possible.

Although a record number of bachelors' degrees were awarded in psychology during the past academic year, there still is a need for well-trained persons in this field, the study disclosed. However, the shortage of training facilities will prevent many of those with bachelors' degrees from entering graduate school.

"Over the next 10 years nearly 1,000,000 teachers must be trained if the educational goals recommended by leaders in the profession are to be met," the report said. Greatest needs will be for kindergarten and elementary teachers.

The report predicted a "moderate increase" in employment in the electric utility industry over the next decade. The increase will be reflected in openings for over 1,000 electrical engineers to help plan, install and operate new facilities.

In many electrical utility occupations — for college graduates and non-graduates alike — "there will be more openings to replace workers leaving the occupation... than there will be new jobs," the study said.

It added that the development of atomic energy power plants to produce electricity "is not expected to have much influence on the industry during the next 10 to 20 years. Even when such plants come into regular operation they are not expected to have much effect on employment in the industry, since they involve primarily a substitution of atomic fuel for coal and other fuels."

Despite employment opportunities in electrical engineering, engineering graduates generally will find "stiffer competition" for jobs, the study said. Over 35,000 engineers are expected to graduate in 1949, and close to 50,000 will receive bachelors' degrees in 1950.

"This tremendous volume of young engineers is many times the 7,000 or so needed to replace older engineers, dropping out of the profession annually," the report stated. "Although the engineering profession has been expanding rapidly over the past several decades and will probably continue to grow, the rate of growth is slowing down."

The report also predicted "increasing competition" for jobs among chemists with only bachelors' degrees, although "those with advanced degrees will have better opportunities."

Pharmacy graduates, it said, still are in "strong demand" this year, but larger graduating classes are in prospect for the next several years, with the number of bachelors' degrees granted in 1950 perhaps doubling the 1948 total of 1,975.

"Many law graduates are already having trouble getting positions in their field," the report observed. "The number of bachelors' degrees in law, already at a peak of 10,025 this year, is expected to rise even further because of a record enrollment of more than 50,000."

Employment prospects for newcomers in the personnel field are "not expected to be good" in the near future, according to the study. "There is now keen competition for entry jobs, which is likely to continue for several years, although the total number of personnel workers employed will probably tend to increase slowly over the long run."

SHIFT ON STEEP HILLS

You are likely to find out some entirely new aspects of driving your car on the long tour, points out the National Automobile Club. You may, for example, encounter hills far more steep than those with which you are familiar. One likely result is that you will attempt to climb them in high gear. In view of the speed and quietness of second gear, it is a foolish practice. Manufacturers recommend a shift to second when the speed drops to twenty miles per hour.

TIRES AND SKIDDING

Another very good reason for keeping your tires inflated to the recommended pressure, declares the National Automobile Club, is that both under-inflation and over-inflation tend to increase the chance of skidding. Quite a bit of research has been done on this subject.
